-Detail description of the event with Inference-

On a Saturday morning, 8th of July a bunch of enthusiastic good Samaritans braved the infamous Mumbai monsoon and got together for a cause close to their hearts. UDAAN-Mumbai and PeFSSSED initiated a 'Plantation Activity' as part of the Environment workshop to mark the world environment day (Jun 05). PeFSSSED under its Child Talent Enhancement Programme is conducting the workshop for the last few weeks in Dharavi. The event was organized at the Chatrapati Sivaji School, run by Jyoti Rao Phule Trust, Dharavi, with the intention of involving young children also, in the campaign.

Kids at work

This one-day project was led by Badri, the PeFSSSED Project Associate. He demonstrated the plantation exercise to the students and the staff of the school. The garden being on the open grounds at the backside of the school proved ideal for the exercise and indeed turned out to be a 'fun' activity for the students and teachers alike. Everybody did his or her share of job by planting at least one tree. Students picked up the intricacies of tree planting rather quickly and the students seemed to be curious and excited with the hope of seeing their labour bring fruits in the months and years to come.

Inferences:

- ❑ The idea of affiliation to a school is worth appreciating
- ❑ Hardly there was any participation from UDAAN Mumbai. An early notice may help the participation.
- ❑ The activity took longer time than expected. Planning needs to be proper in this regard.
- ❑ Looking at the enthusiasm of kids, variety of programmes can be taken up in the school
- ❑ As the programme was after normal class hour, there were no girl participants

Smiles with satisfaction after the work
